

COOLIDGE ARRIVES TODAY TO ATTEND TARIFF CONGRESS

Vice President-Elect Will Be Guest Tonight at Dinner Given at Georgian Terrace.

RECEPTION COMMITTEE NAME TO GREET HIM

Governor Coolidge Will Speak at Baptist Tabernacle Thursday—Congress Delegates Are Arriving.

Calvin Coolidge, governor of Massachusetts and vice president-elect of the United States, will arrive in Atlanta at 5:45 o'clock this afternoon, a leader in the vanguard of the southern tariff congress, which convenes here Thursday for a series of conferences lasting through Saturday.

Accompanying Atlanta's famous guest will be Mrs. Coolidge and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stearns, of Massachusetts.

Committee Meets Coolidge.

A reception committee to meet Governor Coolidge on his arrival here Wednesday afternoon at the Terminal station was appointed by the executive committee of the congress including the following: John H. Kirby, of Texas; George W. Armstrong, of Mississippi and Texas; W. A. Luman, Florida; Paullo Burguiere, Louisiana; J. E. Burleson, North Carolina; N. A. Shaw, Texas; Ernest Knoll, Texas; J. J. Willey, Georgia; J. Fleming, Texas; P. D. Bain, Virginia; Marion Sansom, Texas; Louis J. Wortham, Texas; John M. Parker, Louisiana; C. E. Stewart, Jr., Florida; John D. McDonald, D. T. Vance, North Carolina; Clarence E. Linz, Texas; James Cornell, Texas; J. A. Arnold, Texas; George A. Sharpe, Alabama; Sam Tate, Georgia; L. C. Haynes, Georgia; John B. Pinner, Virginia; James S. Dore, Texas; H. E. Gress, Tennessee; R. E. Ellis, Tennessee; M. P. Northington, Alabama; Walter Parker, Louisiana; R. M. McFarland, Oklahoma; J. Rose Hanahan, South Carolina; T. L. Kirkpatrick, North Carolina; F. C. Bickert, Tennessee; C. L. McKay, Mississippi; R. T. Price, Oklahoma; Charles G. Edwards, Georgia; C. W. McClure, Georgia; H. G. Hill, Tennessee; D. D. Peden, Texas; Henry E. Snow, Florida; J. D. Mott, South Carolina; Sidney J. Galt, Florida.

The local reception committee appointed to meet the governor includes Mayor James L. Key, C. A. Wickensham, Eugene Black, Lee Ashcraft, F. J. Paxton, General J. P. Morrison, B. M. Bailey, Walter P. Andrews, Buford Goodwin, C. B. Wilmer, John A. Brice, Clark Howell, C. E. Robertson, W. D. Hoffman, R. A. Gordon, E. T. Wade, Brooks Morgan, J. C. Beam, R. B. Pegram, J. P. Phillips, L. H. Bell and Dr. K. G. Matheson.

Following the arrival here the party will be escorted to the Georgian Terrace hotel, where the visitors will reside while in Atlanta Wednesday evening Vice President-elect Coolidge and those accompanying him will be the guests at a dinner of J. H. Kirby, president of the tariff congress, at the Georgian Terrace.

Governor Coolidge will deliver an address to the tariff congress Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the Baptist Tabernacle. Business meetings of the congress will be held in the hall. The distinguished visitor and his wife will be honored at a number of social entertainments provided by local delegates to the congress.

Delegates Arriving.

Arrival of delegates to the congress is expected to begin in large numbers Wednesday morning, to continue through the day and night in time for the opening meeting.

Do You Ever Read The Bank Advertising In The Constitution?

You should. It is important. Every Bank in Atlanta has a message for you that is of vital importance. One Bank tells you of service, another Bank stresses the need to save. These advertisements are educational; they will teach you more about banks and banking than anything else you could get hold of. This is just one more reason why you should

FILIBUSTER OPENS ON TARIFF BILL

Opponents to Fordney Emergency Measure Begin Delays to Defeat the Bill.

Washington, January 25.—The Fordney emergency tariff bill was brought into the senate for consideration today, but immediately ran into a small but effective filibuster. Merits of the bill and reasons for its early enactment by the senate had scarcely been outlined by Senator McCumber, republican, North Dakota, before Senator Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, launched an attack which continued until adjournment.

The tactics in forcing delay in consideration at this time were considered sound by opponents of the bill inasmuch as the postoffice appropriation bill is scheduled for tomorrow and several other money supply bills are expected to be ready when that measure is out of the way.

Appeals for Action.

Senator McCumber appeals for action on the measure on the ground that it would affect more than 30,000 people. The government, he said, owes to those people immediate action which will protect them and save from "absolute bankruptcy" some of the producers of farm commodities.

"You want to make the farm at a loss," he said.

Enthusiastic Over Spirit.

Mayor Andrew C. Erwin, whose career as the chief executive of the classic educational center of Georgia is well known, was enthusiastic Tuesday over the excellent spirit evinced by his fellow townsmen after their loss, and said that the fire would mean, if anything, a step forward in the progress of the town. They will rebuild immediately, he said and won't worry. During the interview he was resting after a night of feverish activity spent in helping direct the fighting of the flames and the protection of property.

The only casualty of the disaster was the injury incurred by Fire Chief George McDorman, of the Athens department, who was hurt in a fall from a ladder about 6 o'clock Tuesday morning. He is now resting easily in the Athens hospital. After the injury of the chief, the command of the blaze-fighting forces was turned over to Chief William B. Coffey, of Atlanta, who arrived noon after, and whose name is being lauded today for the valiant service he and his crew of eighteen men rendered the distressed Athens.

ATHENS PREPARES FOR REBUILDING BURNED DISTRICT

Damage Suffered in Blaze Tuesday Morning in the Classic City Estimated at $2,000,000.

BY PAUL WARWICK.

Constitution Staff Correspondent.

Athens, Ga., January 25.—(Special.)—Plans for immediate reconstruction, rather than abundance of post-mortems, comprise the keynote of Athens' conversation, today, following the fire which destroyed an entire block of the city's business section and damaged surrounding property, causing a property damage estimated at $2,000,000.

The blaze, which began after midnight Monday, from a source yet undetermined, has now been vanquished, leaving in its trail only the smoldering debris and ruins of buildings which were, until Monday night, the center of the town's business activity.

Estimates vary in the opinion of citizens, the conservative average ranges between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000, 75 per cent of which, it is further estimated, was protected by insurance. Workmen were clearing debris before the fire had died down.

A spirit of the highest optimism is the most noticeable thing about Athens. M. G. Michael, president of Michael Brothers, the firm whose loss is undoubtedly the greatest in the conflagration, says that reconstruction of his property loss and replacement of his stock will begin "just as soon as the bricks are cool enough to allow the workmen to get at it."

Admit Breaking Prohibition Law To Avenge Loss

Three Atlanta Men Indicted, After Floridians Tell of Booze Loss.

Rather than have the disappearance of their whisky go unavenged, two prominent young men of Miami, Fla., yesterday offered to plead guilty to violating the prohibition laws and suffer any penalty the law might inflict. They told Solicitor General John Boykin that they had violated the law by transporting whisky from state to state. They were equally frank in declaring that they had offered it for sale. And then they asked summary vengeance against the men, whom they say got their liberal supply of bonded booze.

Harry Cooper and Wilbur Phelps, of Miami, Fla., are the men. They appear before the Fulton county grand jury Tuesday and had three Atlantians indicted in connection with the disappearance of five full cases of real red whisky.

The men indicted were John Gwin, proprietor of a Houston street taxicab service; Emmett Brantley and "Chocolate" Brown Daniels. Their bonds were fixed at $1,000.

According to the story told to the grand jurors by the Floridians they were passing through Atlanta on their way to Dalton, where there was to be a house party. According to their admissions it was going to be a regular house party, for the guests had "eschewed" the thought of indulging in the dew of north Georgia mountains and wanted a beverage of respectable age with the stamp of approval of a government.

Called Off House Party.

Seven cases of it they possessed when they came into Atlanta in Phoenix car and registered at a prominent downtown hotel. Then, according to their story, the first sad tidings came. The house party at Dalton had been called off. They said they did all they could to take care of all the 34 bottles of bottled in bond booze and did succeed in getting away with fourteen quarts before the condition of their nerves and digestive apparatus told them that it was the part of wisdom to quit.

Atlanta is a dry spot, as far as red liquor is concerned, and they thought that it would not be hard to dispose of the five remaining cases without financial loss. According to the story related to the grand jury, they met Brantley, who agreed with them in this last premise. In fact they say, he told them that he had a wealthy friend who would be glad to get the entire amount.

GEORGIA MAY GET $2,800,000 ROAD FUND FROM U. S.

House Roads Committee, With Consent of Party Leaders, Favors $100,000,000 for Post Roads.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMAN.

Washington, January 25.—(Special.)—The overwhelming pressure from the south and west for a continuation of the federal aid to post roads went out today against the earlier decision of the republican steering committee not to pass a road appropriation bill at this session of congress. The house roads committee, with the consent of majority leaders in both branches of congress, reported out this afternoon a committee bill carrying $100,000,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1922, and $200,000,000 for the same period for road construction in government forest reservations. The bill will come up on a special order February 7, and will pass both houses.

While all of the various federal aid road bills, three of which were introduced by Lee, Larsen and Bell, of Georgia, respectively, called for a ten-year program of $100,000,000 a year, the committee bill for the original appropriations Georgia has introduced calls for a ten-year plan.

The present measure does not impose any embarrassing restrictions upon the application of the funds, simply continuing the work of federal aid to road construction under the fifty-fifty matching plan as provided in the original law of 1916.

Georgia's quota of the $100,000,000 for the ensuing fiscal year, will be approximately $2,800,000 and the passage of the bill will enable the new highway commission in that state to continue to function according to its state-wide system proposed. The federal bureau of good roads reports today that out of the original appropriations Georgia has been allotted for projects already completed or in course of construction, $5,876,000 and that the state has a credit balance in the treasury of $1,531,000 for which no approved projects are shown in Washington, but which probably has already been allotted to counties by the state commission, and for which plans and specifications are being made. The total amount of federal warrants already actually issued to Georgia under the 1916 law amounted to $7,995,655.99 on January 26, all of which shows the great value of this federal fund in road construction in that state.

GEORGIA MAY SPEND $24,000,000 ON ROAD WORK IN YEAR.

Georgia's highway fund for the fiscal year of 1921-1922 may be $24,000,000.

Dainty Lingerie Is Just as Warm As Red Flannels

Boudoir Secret Exposed When Garment Maker Discusses "The Sex."

BY ALEXANDER R. JONES.

United News Staff Correspondent.

Chicago, January 25.—The critics of the ladies have had considerable to say of late regarding their alleged semi-nudity.

Reformers declare women are dressing so scantily that men are losing respect for them. Pulpits re-echo with protests against the upward revision of skirts. Righteous citizens have joined the chorus of denunciation.

They do know what they are talking about. "They do not," said R. W. Howe, president of the Chicago Garment Manufacturers' association, Tuesday. "I quarrel with the motives of a reformer, preacher or indignant citizen. I say merely that not one man in one hundred knows what a woman wears. Ask any married man what his wife wears. The longer he has married the less he knows about it."

"Unlabeled" Is Good.

It developed that the less a woman seems to have on, the more she really wears. It is a little secret of her own, but a secret which was unveiled for one person from the acres of filmy apparel that form part of a mammoth style show soon to open here.

It is a delicate subject, but justice must be done. When skirts go up an inch, bloomers come down an inch. When styles dictate that evening gowns be extremely décolleté, there are silk things that are made warmer and snuggler. The new Italian silk union suits for women retain more units of heat than grandpapa's old red flannels.

Warmer Than Grandpa.

The new Philippine embroidered chemises cling tighter and are as warm as grandmother's traditional equivalent ever pretended to be. Over this, it was explained, the modern lady slips on a satin, wind-breaking camisole, that is warm as can be. Cobweb stockings aren't all cobweb by a long shot, it was explained.

All Business Ends—Strike Threatens—Pigeons Are Killed

Bombay, British India, January 24.—The stock exchange and cotton and bullion markets were closed today and a general hartal, or religious strike, is projected in consequence of a grave incident yesterday attendant upon the killing of two pigeons in the street by two European boys. The natives consider pigeons sacred. A crowd of angry Indians gathered and remonstrated with the boys. The police took charge of the lads and also several Hindu boys with whom they had been fighting.

Already Authorized to Detail Officers on "Plain Clothes" Duty, Chambers Tells Board.

A resolution to empower Police Chief James L. Beavers with authority to send out plainclothes squads in "times of emergency" was introduced before the board of police commissioners last night by Commissioner McMurtry.

When Chief Beavers submitted the names of thirteen men eligible for the pension list a lively discussion ensued between Chairman J. W. Maddox and Mayor James L. Key. Chairman Maddox took the view that many of the men had given practically their entire life to the city.

Step to Unite All Interests of Atlanta Are Adopted at Meeting of Education Board.

COMMITTEE OF 3 WILL MAKE GENERAL PLANS

School Board Will Formulate Program for Expenditure of Money Sought for System.

Steps to unite all interests of Atlanta into one great campaign, to organize to support the proposed bond issue of $3,500,000 for civic improvements, were adopted Tuesday by the board of education.

After discussing as a whole the program of school buildings that could be carried out with $4,000,000, the board adopted a second suggestion of Mayor Key that detailed study of a schedule of distribution be made by the finance committee of the board, which was authorized to call to its aid the advice and opinions of school officials, teachers, architects, contractors, and any others who might assist, and report back to the board at a subsequent meeting.

Because of the magnitude of the new building program involved and the many phases in connection that must be worked out the board decided that careful and cautious consideration should precede definite announcement of plans with reference to the expenditure of any portion of the money.

In the meantime the school forces in conjunction with the civic and industrial strength of the city will be making a vigorous drive toward victory at the ballot box.

W. W. Gaines, president of the board of education, announced Tuesday night that he will call a meeting of the general campaign committee for next Thursday afternoon at 8 o'clock in the finance committee room of city hall.

The leaders of the other bodies represented on the committee are: Mrs. Albert Thornton, Sr., president of the Federation of Women's clubs; W. C. Cartwright, president of the Federation of Trades; Lee Ashcraft, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. John Spaulding, president of the Parent-Teacher association; W. E. Dunn, president of the water board; Councilman C. E. Buchanan, chairman of the sewers and drains committee, and Councilman J. H. Olin, chairman of the committee on bridges.

In his remarks to the board Tuesday afternoon President Gaines said that the board should decide as quickly as possible, commensurate with painstaking consideration, where and where also take initial steps toward setting up a solid

Will Let People Know.

"This is a matter that we should determine as quickly as practicable and we should let the people know exactly what we will do with the money in the event the bonds carry. We want to spend every dollar of the money to the best advantage and where it will do the most good."

"If I may be permitted to particularize as to one thing," stated Mr. Gaines, "I will say that our program of work as eventually decided on should include distinctly better high school and grammar school facilities for the negroes than they now have. The negroes complain that their public schools have not been given proper consideration, and they have good cause for this complaint. It is a through a big bond issue that we need to make in the matter of permanent improvements," said Mr. Gaines. "We should find out where and in what ways $4,000,000 can best be spent in the purchase of lots and equipment and in the erection of school buildings."

SAYS INTERMEYER ACTS FOR GERMAN

Palmer Scores New York Attorney in Formal Statement Refuting Criticism of Office.

Washington, January 25.—Attorney General Palmer tonight unhesitatingly scored the charges against Samuel Untermyer, New York attorney, with acting "in the German interest," and "with simply serving his old clients" in his recent criticism of the office of alien property custodian and attorney general.

The attorney general presented his charges in a formal statement with quotations from a report taken from the New York Times, which was published in the New York Times, and which was taken from the diary of Heinrich F. Albert, former chief privy councillor of the German embassy, who was captured by the British in Palestine, and who was referred to by Mr. Untermyer in his recent criticism of the office of alien property custodian and attorney general.

The malicious reiteration by Samuel Untermyer, New York attorney, of the charges which the friends of Germany, and the alien property custodian, Mr. Palmer, would not call for any reply, if his criticism of the office of alien property custodian and attorney general, which make his motives plain. He desires to undo a significant part of the war's achievement. He is vigorously opposed to the government's policy—as laid down by the congress and carried out by the executive—in regard to enemy-owned property. He refers to enemy-owned property in this country as properties of these unfortunate people whose and plight he always sought to alleviate.

High School Plans.

On the other hand, he stated, a strong tradition has grown up around each of the present High schools, and which will be their continuance. If cosmopolitan High schools were built, one would probably be located on each side and a duplicate on the north side, each built to accommodate approximately 1,000 pupils, and would cost in the aggregate about $1,200,000.

The Junior High schools—if Junior High schools are built—would cost $1,250,000, and members of the board of education are necessary. These would cost $100,000 each, or $1,000,000 all told.

High schools, the school board, Dykes greatly relieve the situation in both the grammar and High schools. In these schools, the grammar schools, the eighth grade, which is said to be the most important, and the first grade of the High schools. All these questions, however, will be taken under consideration by the finance committee of the board for thorough analysis.

Wednesday night the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce are scheduled to meet, with the subject of the board of education principal matters to be considered. Federation will meet.

At night the Atlanta Trades will discuss the issue at its regular monthly meeting, and Thursday morning the board of education will be the main topic of discussion at a luncheon meeting of the Atlanta Real Estate board at the Capital City Club.

Mrs. C. F. Osburn, president of the State Federation of Teachers, appeared before the board of education Tuesday and requested the board to consider the plan to establish in the schools clinics or "health centers," where examinations may be made by experts working under the auspices of the parent-teacher bodies and cases of malnutrition detected and corrected.

It is the plan of the association to conduct a series of health clinics at one of the schools, and if beneficial results are shown, the board will then be asked to extend the work for extension of the work. Scales for weighing and measuring the children have been purchased by the association at a number of schools.

Mrs. Garner in Charge.

The demonstration under the direct charge of Mrs. James D. Garner, nutrition instructor, connected with the Red Cross, was held at the Capital City Club, and what it expects to accomplish, at the meeting Tuesday, as did also Miss Mary Arthur, director of the bureau of nutrition service of the Red Cross, and Mrs. Ann Crockett, who conducted in a number of Atlanta schools showed malnutrition among the pupils ranging upward in various figures from 37 per cent in the white schools to 72 per cent in the negro schools. The board endorsed the movement.

An appropriation of $250 was voted by the board toward a fund to provide for the entertainment of the delegates to the Georgia Educational association, which will meet in Atlanta in May.

Commissioner W. H. Terrell moved to exclude The New York Independent, a periodical publication, from the libraries of the schools, on the ground that it has recently indulged in attacks on the old and the new south, and in making the attacks on the negro newspapers published in the north. His motion was referred to the committee on schools and teachers.

department and should not be retained while capable of attending to their duty. Mayor Key stated that as long as he had anything to do with the safety of the property of Atlanta citizens he wanted an efficient force of policemen. "You are hard put for an argument," the mayor remarked, "as to why you should have a force of policemen."

"And you're hard put for a fight with somebody," Chairman Maddox replied.

The examinations were ordered, the status of the men to be established later.

Charges of mistreatment accorded Mrs. Caroline M. Cohen, who was charged with shoplifting, at police headquarters, will be investigated when she appears to offer evidence, the board decided after the case was called and Mrs. Cohen failed to appear.

A letter from W. Paul Carpenter, attorney for Mrs. Cohen, was read, in which he stated that when the subpoena for Mrs. Cohen was received by him, his client had already left the city for her home in Charleston, and that recent she has been located in a sanatorium in Virginia for nervous treatment.

A lively tussle ensued when Special Officer Vic D. Young, who arrested Mrs. Cohen, accused Major George F. Whitsett, Judge advocate at Fort McPherson, of stating to newspaper men alleged to have been made by Mrs. Cohen, that (Young) had "told a party of lies." The major accused a beligerent attitude and the officers desisted from further assertions. A month later, Young's work was questioned by the army officer, when testifying regarding statements alleged to have been made by Mrs. Cohen's attorneys. Major Whitsett was subpoenaed as a witness in the case of Mrs. Cohen following her release.

The board postponed action in the case of former Detective Chief Newport Lanford, who is accused of bribery in regard to cases of violations of the prohibition laws at Columbus, Ga. Attorney Harvey Hill, representing Columbus attorneys, asked for the postponement until next Tuesday night, owing to the necessity of their appearance in

REAL ESTATE MEN WILL DISCUSS TAX AND BOND ISSUE

In order that a full and free discussion of the proposed emergency tax and the proposed bond issue for schools and other improvements for Atlanta may be had by the realty men of the city, the Atlanta Real Estate board will give Thursday at 1 o'clock a luncheon at the Capital City Club, to which all the members of the organization and many guests have been invited. The principal address will be delivered by M. Wellborn, governor of the sixth district federal reserve bank, who will give his opinion upon the present business situation, and his impressions regarding the financial situation in the future.

Many of the large taxpayers of Atlanta are said to be opposed to leaving an emergency tax for the schools and are giving their support to the proposed bond issue of $8,850,000.

President Henry B. Scott, of the real estate board, in his introduction to members of the organization, urged upon them the importance of attending the coming meeting.

In addition to the above mentioned discussion, the Atlanta Real Estate board will hear a report from the committee appointed by the organization to attend the meeting of the National Real Estate association that held a number of sessions in Atlanta the first part of January.

O'CALLAGHAN ASKS MONEY FOR IRISH

American Cash Sought by Cork Mayor, Not Food and Supplies, He Tells Committee.

New York, January 25.—Donal O'Callaghan, lord mayor of Cork, appeared for aid to his countrymen today in a speech before the executive committee of the American committee for relief in Ireland. He said thousands had been made jobless through destruction of property by British troops, and declared that the Irish people were in many places "because it is now the custom for British troops to go through the country, shooting indiscriminately."

He asked that money rather than food be sent to Ireland, and requested the committee, headed by Morgan J. O'Brien, to consider the question of public buildings in Ireland.

Houseboat Victoria Floats Placidly On With Next President

Vero, Fla., January 25.—President-elect Harding's houseboat Victoria anchored off Vero tonight at the end of another day of uneventful sailing down the Indian river. She will continue her journey tomorrow and may reach Palm Beach by tomorrow night.

Today's run was completed in time to permit the president-elect and his companions on the houseboat to play 18 holes of golf at the Vero links and take a surf bath before nightfall. Mr. Harding was welcomed at the golf club by many members of the Ohio winter colony located here, but in deference to his wishes, plans for a formal reception in his honor were abandoned.

At the present rate of travel the Victoria should reach Miami, Fla., tomorrow night, and by Friday, she has no fixed schedule, however, it may be decided not to go into Miami until Saturday or Sunday.

ALLEGED CON MEN IN HEARING TODAY ON HABEAS CORPUS

Memphis, January 25.—Refusing to grant further continuance, three alleged confidence men, Walter Chambers, William Fletcher and J. D. Williams, all under indictment in Atlanta, Ga. Circuit Judge Capell ordered the hearing of habeas corpus proceedings brought by the men against the charges brought against them in Atlanta. A decision on the habeas corpus writ will be given tomorrow morning.

HOUSE COMMITTEE FAVORS PASSAGE BETTER BABY BILL

Washington, January 25.—The Sheppard-Towner bill for protection of maternity and infancy recently passed by the senate, was reported today by the house committee after an all-day session.

ALLEGED LEADER IN AMBUSH GANG IS UNDER ARREST

Florence, Ala., January 25.—Following the arrest today of W. E. Holmes, wealthy land owner and alleged leader of the gang that ambushed state enforcement officers, killing one and wounding two, last Saturday, together with several other alleged suspects of the "ring," the authorities have received reports that Jake Smith is hiding in the mountains south of Leighton, Smith, with Hamp Kirby, who was arrested last night, is wanted for the actual firing upon the enforcement squad.

W. E. Holmes, enforcement officer, accompanied by a score of deputies, left here today for the mountains where it is reported Smith was last seen. They have a rough and dangerous trip ahead of them, but the officers are going prepared for a battle.

Meeting for Masons.

Senola, Ga., January 25.—(Special.) At the Methodist church here a special service for the Masons and their friends will be held. The service will be held at 8 o'clock and the officers are going to preach the sermon, which will be followed by a special musical program appropriate for the occasion. Pastor S. B. Strout, of the Methodist church, will have charge of the occasion.

REPUBLICANS APPROVE VETERANS' HOSPITALS

Plan Construction of Five Nervous and Tuberculosis Sanitariums.

Washington, January 25.—Republican leaders in the house today gave their approval of a program which calls for the construction of five hospitals for war veterans suffering from mental and nervous disorders and tuberculosis.

After a conference with Representative Wendell the republican leader, Chairman Good, of the appropriations committee, and others, Representative Langley, republican of Kentucky, chairman of the public building committee, announced he would introduce a bill appropriating $13,000,000 for such hospitals. Members of the committee have agreed, he said, to report the measure favorably, and assurance has been given him that it will be taken up for passage by the house early next week at the latest.

Mr. Langley said he was convinced there would be formidable opposition, and the senate would expedite the program by taking action on the bill at this session.

The $13,000,000 would be used to construct in various parts of the country three hospitals for the treatment of mental cases, and two for tubercular patients, at a cost of $2,500,000 each. Their locations have not yet been determined. The balance of the fund would be used to convert buildings on the government reservation at Walla Walla, Wash., and at Fort McKim, Wyo., into hospitals.

The New Convenience Car

FOR business men, doctors and those who need a personal car for both utility and social purposes, this new Franklin type stands by itself. No automobile body so adaptable to all seasons was ever before designed.

Water-tight and wind-tight glass panels make it a genuine enclosed car for driving right now.

Next spring, by removing the door glasses (a few minutes' work) you get all the air you want without undue exposure.

Then when summer comes, take out the window glasses, too—and it becomes a genuine open car. Curtains which go on in no time guard against storms.

The top is built as a unit with the body, and is the first light weight, anti-rattle, convertible construction ever produced.

And with this body go all the usual Franklin advantages typified by—

20 miles to the gallon of gasoline
12,500 miles to the set of tires
50% slower yearly depreciation (National Averages)

U. S. BOARD HEARS WAGE-CUT CASE

B. L. Bugg Sets Forth
Case of A., B. & A. and
E. P. Curtis States Employees' Position.

Chicago, January 25.—Contending that the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railway had violated the transportation act by posting notices of wage reductions, employees of that road today presented their case before the railroad labor board. An early decision on the matter, which Chairman R. H. Barton expects, is expected.

E. P. Curtis, vice president of the Order of Railway Conductors, briefly stated the employee's position, declaring it was their contention that in any dispute originated by the carriers or employees, no action could be taken by either until after a hearing and decision, as required by the transportation act. He urged that the wage reduction order be recalled pending the hearing.

B. L. Bugg, president of the road, said that since the termination of federal guaranty, the road had been unable, despite reduction of forces and all possible economy, to make operating expenses and taxes. "Wage increases since 1917 amount to $2,400,000 a year," said Mr. Bugg, "and we propose to reduce wages one-half of that amount, which approximates the amount by which we are failing to meet expenses."

ATHENS PREPARES FOR REBUILDING

city of Atlanta. Two "pumpers" and 3,000 feet of hose were loaded on a special train in the Gate City Tuesday morning and dispatched to Athens as soon as was possible.

Estimates of Damage.

Estimates placed on the damage to the largest properties, placed by Selig Bernstein, president of the People's bank, follow:

Michael Brothers, wholesale and retail department store, $150,000.
Sol J. Boley, dry goods, $160,000.
Lee Morris, men's furnishings and haberdashery, $25,000.
Andrew Childers, candy, $25,000.
Epstein & Everhart, dry goods, $15,000.
Citizens' Pharmacy, loss not known.
Denny Motor company, $60,000.
Fred Davis, gentlemen's furnishings, $10,000.
D. Land, dry goods, $30,000.
Joseph Jewelry company, water damage, and to several stores near the scene, damage from heat, which amounts to thousands of dollars.

The origin of the fire has so far been variously attributed. It being known that it began somewhere in the Max Joseph building, a five-story brick structure which housed the Denny Motor company, one of the heaviest losers, and other floors of this building, and some say that the flames began from a cigarette tossed from a window. Others believe that the blaze began in the kitchen of a restaurant in the basement of the same building.

Have Blaze Controlled.

Before the arrival of the Atlanta firefighters the Athens department had the flames under control after a desperate fight they had waged throughout the night. The Atlanta men relieved them, however, and spent the day in extinguishing the last vestiges of the blaze and pulling down dangerous walls which were still standing above the ruins. Athens people are profuse in their gratitude for the response made by the Atlanta authorities to their appeal for aid.

It was said, but never completely verified, that there are $85,000 worth of Liberty bonds in the safe of Michael Brothers. The safe is buried beneath the great tonnage of fallen plaster and masonry, but is safe, so far as known. The fact that the bonds are registered with the treasury department will preclude the possibility of their loss, said the report.

M. G. Michael, head of that firm, is most optimistic about his concern's future and said Tuesday that no delay would mark the start of his new plans. He is already negotiating with architects to replace his five-story wholesale building built in 1895, and his three-story retail building built in 1908. He estimated the insurance he had on his property in the neighborhood of $250,000. The firm employs 15 people, most of whom will be given work at once.

W. C. Denny, head of the Denny Motor company, who lost 43 cars in the blaze, said that the new cars in the stock—about 50 per cent—were well covered by insurance, but that the used cars he lost were only partially covered. Arthur Griffith, secretary of the Southern Mutual Insurance Company of Athens, said that only $20,000 of his firm's policies was involved in the conflagration.

Students Are Ruly.

The students of the University of Georgia and the citizens of Athens generally were busy early Tuesday morning removing the stock from the stores near the scene of the fire. Hugh Gordon, president of the Commercial Bank of Athens, had all of the valuable papers of his institution safely moved to the city hall square before the flames had got completely under way.

An interesting feature of the fire, which almost completely destroyed the block bounded by Clayton, Broad, Jackson and Wall streets, was that the only two frame dwellings on the square were untouched by the flames. These two buildings, one-story affairs stood next to each other, to the Max Joseph building, in which the blaze began. In spreading, the blaze jumped the width of Wall street and did not touch the frame houses just adjacent to it. One of the structures, however, was crushed in by the falling of the walls of the Max Joseph building. The flames which reached the Denny motor concern soon after their start, caused a series of explosions which ex-service listeners compared Tuesday morning to the sound of a western front barrage. It is believed that most of the two-score cars in the building had gasoline in their tanks. The flames soon spread rapidly to the rest of the block and licked across the street into the Citizens' Pharmacy, making of it almost a total loss and injuring the Joseph Jewelry company's establishment, adjacent. A fire wall at this point stopped the flames from making its inroad on this other large block of business structures.

Atlanta's Fire Chief Wins Gratitude of Athenians

Upper Stores Damaged.

The upper stories of the stores on Broad street were damaged the most, since the elevation of Clayton street, where the fire had its origin, is much higher than that of Broad. The flames were finally kept from igniting the structure of the Athens National bank, at Broad and Jackson streets.

Directly across Broad street from the stopping point of the flames is the administration building on the campus of the University of Georgia, and although sparks fell among the historic old buildings here, no damage resulted.

Chief Cody and newspaper men who went from Atlanta to the fire were richly entertained Tuesday afternoon by the anecdotes of Mistah Bill Ellington, major dome of Mayor Erwin, who numbers among his friends Governor Dorsey and other prominent Georgians. Mistah Ellington gave a most philosophical resume of the tendencies of the times.

"Since all dis heah money presenture stopped," he said, "people's talkin' sense. Back in the days when ev'body didn't have nothin' but money, they wasn't nobody talkin' sense and actin' sensible. If it wasn't for that, this fire 'd hurt our town more'n 'twill. Can't hurt it now, though, for folks is got sense again."

Mistah Ellington also gave interesting accounts of "hot suppers," when "niggers" carried their "lick-er" and their pistols in the back of the buggy, and other state happenings in Greene and Clarke counties, maintaining the same optimism that all Athens feels.

The firemen with the apparatus, sent from Atlanta to assist the Athens fire department in quelling the flames, returned to Atlanta at 8:40 o'clock Tuesday night. The apparatus was unloaded and returned to the headquarters at shortly after 10:30 o'clock.

FORD COMPANY LOAN REQUEST REPORT DENIED

Detroit, Mich., January 25.—The Ford Motor company has not initiated negotiations for a loan of up to $50,000,000, as reported last week in New York banking circles, according to a close business associate of Henry Ford here.

Offers of a loan have been received, it was said, from a number of banks whose representatives have called at the company's offices here during the last week, but they have been declined.

GOVERNMENT SUE FOR VESSEL SUNK BY GERMAN SUB

Washington, January 25.—The first suit to recover damages from the government for a ship sunk by German submarines during the war was begun today in the court of claims by the New York and Porto Rico Steamship company, which claims to have been damaged $2,500,000 by the sinking of its steamer, the Carolina, which was under government operation and bound from San Juan, Porto Rico, to New York, was attacked by a German submarine and sunk off the New Jersey coast on June 2, 1918.

The company has been paid $187,500 by the shipping board and sued in the court of claims for a balance of $1,812,500.

MEET TO UNRAVEL NEAR EAST TANGLE

Supreme Council Calls Meeting in London to Discuss Affairs of Greece and Turkey.

Paris, January 25.—The allied supreme council today disposed of for the moment, the Greek and Turkish questions, and meanwhile considerable progress was made toward an agreement on measures to be taken for the disarmament of Germany.

The allied military experts met in the morning and discussed which they differed slightly yesterday. The questions were then settled, probably tomorrow afternoon, the morning session being devoted to the disarmament of Germany.

The conference is about a day behind its schedule and will have some difficulty in finishing its labors by the end of the week. Some of the problems may go over until the proposed allied conference at London. This is the conference which the supreme council today decided to call at an early date to settle affairs in the Near East and at which representatives of Greece and Turkey will be present.

Great significance is attached here to the decision to invite the Greeks and Turks to meet the allies in London. It is regarded as indicating clearly that the allies do not reject the idea of the revision of the Sevres treaty, even if all of them are not yet in favor of modifications.

Although not specifically stated that the adherents of Mustafa Kemal Pasha, the Turkish nationalist leader, will be asked to send representatives, it is assumed that such will be the case, as the conflict now is between the Kemalists and Greeks. Whether the Armenians will be invited does not appear from the information given out today. It is pointed out, however, that such a move would have complications with the bolsheviks in view of the strong position they have gained in Armenia.

COOLIDGE ARRIVES FOR TARIFF CONGRESS

In the hall Thursday morning. Besides the man who is second in the order of the American people today, the list of invited notables includes the governors of all the southern states who are also presidents of the association. Their names are:

W. P. Hobby, of Texas; John M. Parker, of Louisiana; Lee M. Russell, of Mississippi; Hugh M. Dorsey, of Georgia; Sidney J. Catts, of Florida; Robert A. Cooper, of South Carolina; Edwin P. Morrow, of Kentucky; Thomas E. Campbell, of Alabama; Arthur M. Hyde, of Missouri; Albert C. Ritchie, of Maryland; Merritt C. Mechem, of New Mexico; Thomas W. Bickett, of North Carolina; J. H. Robertson, of Oklahoma; Alf Taylor, of Tennessee; Westmoreland Davis, of Virginia; J. I. Cornwell, of West Virginia; T. C. McRae, of Arkansas; Thomas W. Hardwick, of Georgia; Cary A. Hardee, of Florida; Octaviano A. Larrazole, of New Mexico; A. H. Roberts, of Tennessee; Charles B. Broun, of Arkansas.

Need of Tariff Revision.

The great need of tariff revision was emphasized in a story told at a preliminary session of the Southern Tariff congress here Thursday by George A. Sharpe, president of the Alabama Graphite Producers' association. The development of the graphite industry was not started until the beginning of the world war, according to Mr. Sharpe, on account of the ruinous effects of competition from Ceylon to Madagascar.

At the outbreak of the war Alabama graphite producers were urged by the government to develop the industry to the fullest extent which they did, and for two years the graphite section enjoyed an unexampled era of prosperity. Schools and churches were built and the district developed into an industrial center. It is stated that the signing of the armistice and the resumption of the foreign product from Ceylon and Madagascar, however, paralyzed the Alabama industry and the inhabitants of that section have returned to their more profitable, if less respectable, vocations.

Mr. Sharpe, together with W. L. Shumate, of Alabama, will represent graphite and will present figures showing the status of that industry in the tariff laws of congress.

A resolution providing for the appointment of a committee composed of the strongest representatives of southern industry to go to Washington to present the views of the south on tariff matters to the congress of the United States was adopted by the association.

Program for Thursday

A tentative program for the opening session of the congress at 10 o'clock Thursday morning was arranged as follows: President John H. Kirby will call the meeting together and briefly outline the purpose of the organization, which he will appoint important committees. Governor Dorsey will preside at the session at the address of welcome will be delivered by Mayor Key on behalf of the city and by Lee Ashcraft, president of the chamber of commerce, on behalf of the business interests. The address of John H. Kirby, governor of Louisiana, will follow and is expected to occupy the larger part of the morning session.

The sessions will be held at Taft hall, but Governor Coolidge will speak at the Baptist Tabernacle Thursday night.

The program for Thursday afternoon and afternoon sessions have not been arranged, pending the arrival of additional speakers and members of government.

The committee meetings of the congress Wednesday at the Pledge hotel are expected to have interesting developments in the way of naming the important committees to handle the affairs of the organization.

Other arrivals at the congress Tuesday include Clarence E. Linz, of Dallas, representing vast commercial and industrial interests in Texas; N. Shaw, of Arkansas, Tex., prominently identified with farmers' organizations in that state and with the agricultural division of the Southern Tariff association; and W. P. Gage, of Dallas, head of the Star Line company, of Texas.

Program for Coolidge

The reception and entertainment program for Governor Coolidge will be as follows:

Wednesday.

GEORGIA MAY GET $2,800,000 ROAD FUND

600,000, according to estimates made Tuesday night by R. F. Tidwell, of the state highway commission. Instead of $15,000,000 as estimated by State Highway Engineer W. R. Neel about two weeks ago. The new figures were announced by Mr. Tidwell after reading a message from Washington to the effect that the house committee on roads had reported favorably upon the continuance of federal aid to roads and had proposed, with the consent of both republican and democratic leaders, an appropriation of $100,000,000 for the coming fiscal year.

Georgia's part of the proposed appropriation, which is believed will be adopted, will be $2,800,000. This amount added to federal allotments up to date, $7,500,000, which has been given to Georgia for highway funds, will come through county co-operation, make possible the coming year highway contracts totaling the huge amount of $24,000,000.

Following the receipt of a special report from Washington announcing the action of the house roads committee, Mr. Tidwell was called over the phone by The Constitution and asked to make a statement regarding the effect the continuance of the federal aid to roads would have upon the Georgia highway program. He expressed much gratification that the house committee had taken favorable action upon the matter, and said that in providing the additional funds his commission will greatly enlarge the already extensive plans for highway construction in this state.

"We have had allotted to us up to date," he said, "something like $7,500,000. This amount, when matched by the state, and increased by county co-operation, make the figures upon which we have announced his estimate of $14,000,000. Now with an additional $2,800,000, Georgia's part of the proposed appropriation of $100,000,000 by the government, with a like amount from the state and additional funds from the counties that will co-operate with us, the total will be raised to something like $14,000,000."

He explained that the state highway department has already prepared estimates and maps for work amounting to the total of the $7,500,000 already allotted to Georgia by the federal government, and said that he had received about $200,000 from Washington last week for contracts. He stated that the highway department had expended the entire amount received through automobile license laws during 1920, and that it will get the 1921 license receipts.

Chicago's Drop In Price of Gas Is Not Felt Here

Oil Men Assert That Conditions in This Section Warrant No Price Changes.

Chicago, January 25.—A reduction of 2 cents a gallon in the price of gasoline was announced here today by the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, as a result of decreases in the price of crude oil. At service stations, the price dropped from 29 to 27 cents and from tank wagons from 27 to 25 cents. Kerosene was cut from 18½ to 15½ cents a gallon.

Despite reductions in Chicago, no change in either wholesale or retail prices of gasoline are anticipated in Atlanta, according to statements Tuesday by officials of wholesale oil companies in this city.

R. E. Hodgson, manager of the Standard Oil company, here, said reductions in Chicago were brought about by conditions which would have no effect upon local prices. He stated that the crude oil supply of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana is derived from sources other than those from which the Standard Oil company in this section gets its product.

Attempt to Equalize.

That there will be neither an advance nor a decline in local prices in the near future was the opinion expressed by W. C. Wilson, vice president of the Reed Oil company, of this city. He stated that when the last two reductions of a cent a gallon on gasoline were made in this section during the last several months the prices of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana were unchanged, and that the present change may be an attempt to approach price equalization.

J. S. Jones, superintendent of the Texas Oil company, and Charles E. Shepard, district sales manager of the Gulf Refining company, stated that conditions in the oil market of this section are such that no change in price is now anticipated. Mr. Wilson, of the Reed company, states that since September, 1920, in which month more gasoline was used than ever before in the history of the world, as far as can be determined by available records, there has been a decline of 1 cent a gallon in the section including Atlanta, to accompany the decline in the demand for gasoline.

Thirty-one Cents Here

Prices of gasoline at filling stations are now 31 cents a gallon, Mr. Wilson states. The wholesale price of the product is 29 cents a gallon. He says that in no city is there less than 2 cents difference in the retail and wholesale prices of gasoline. In many cities, he stated, there is 3 cents difference, and in some instances 4 cents.

Wholesale prices of gasoline a gallon in other cities, or prices at which the commodity is sold from the tank wagons, are, as quoted by Mr. Wilson: New York, 31; Washington, 33½; Philadelphia, 30.5; Cleveland, 30; Lexington, 28; Tulsa, Okla., 28; Chicago, 27; Omaha, 29; Denver, 32; Los Angeles, 27, and New Orleans, 25½.

Mr. Hodgson, of the Standard Oil company, states that the crude oil from which gasoline is refined for use in the Atlanta territory, comes mainly from Baton Rouge, La., and Louisville, Ky. He said that, although the crude oil market is thought to be showing some signs of weakening, the effect will not for some time be felt.

GARRETT IS BOUND OVER ON CHARGE OF WHITE SLAVERY

M. E. Garrett, Atlanta plumber, who was arrested Thursday on a charge of bigamy, was held under $700 bond for the federal grand jury Tuesday by United States Commissioner W. Colquitt Carter on a white slavery charge. He was unable to furnish bail and was re-committed to the Fulton tower.

The case of Garrett came to the attention of federal agents when state authorities charged him with having married again in Chattanooga without first securing a divorce from a first wife, who was Miss Eva Pruitt, an whom he is alleged to have married in 1914.

The government contended that it was a violation of the Mann act when Garrett took the young woman, who afterwards became his second wife, across the state line. According to Garrett's statement, his first wife had accosted him on a downtown street, secured an annulment of their marriage, previous to his second marriage, and informed him that she had, and that he was not aware that the second marriage was bigamous.

Building Costs Have Come Down

The reduction is heavy on many things, and as the result a general revival of building is expected.

This country is three years behind in building. First, because of the war, and later because of the high cost of building.

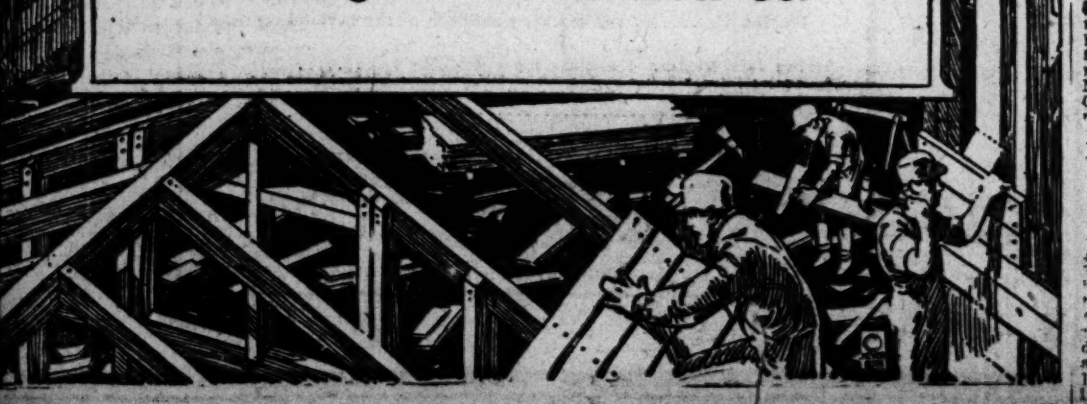

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States estimates a shortage of 1,250,000 homes in the country. High rents and crowded quarters prepare us to believe that.

Horace B. Herr, editor of The National Contractor, says there is an accumulated demand for seven billion dollars' worth of construction, and if half that demand becomes active this year it will be a period of feverish activity in building. He thinks this will cause a reaction in prices during the spring.

Cities and counties are floating big bond issues for school houses and other structures. They think this a good time to invest.

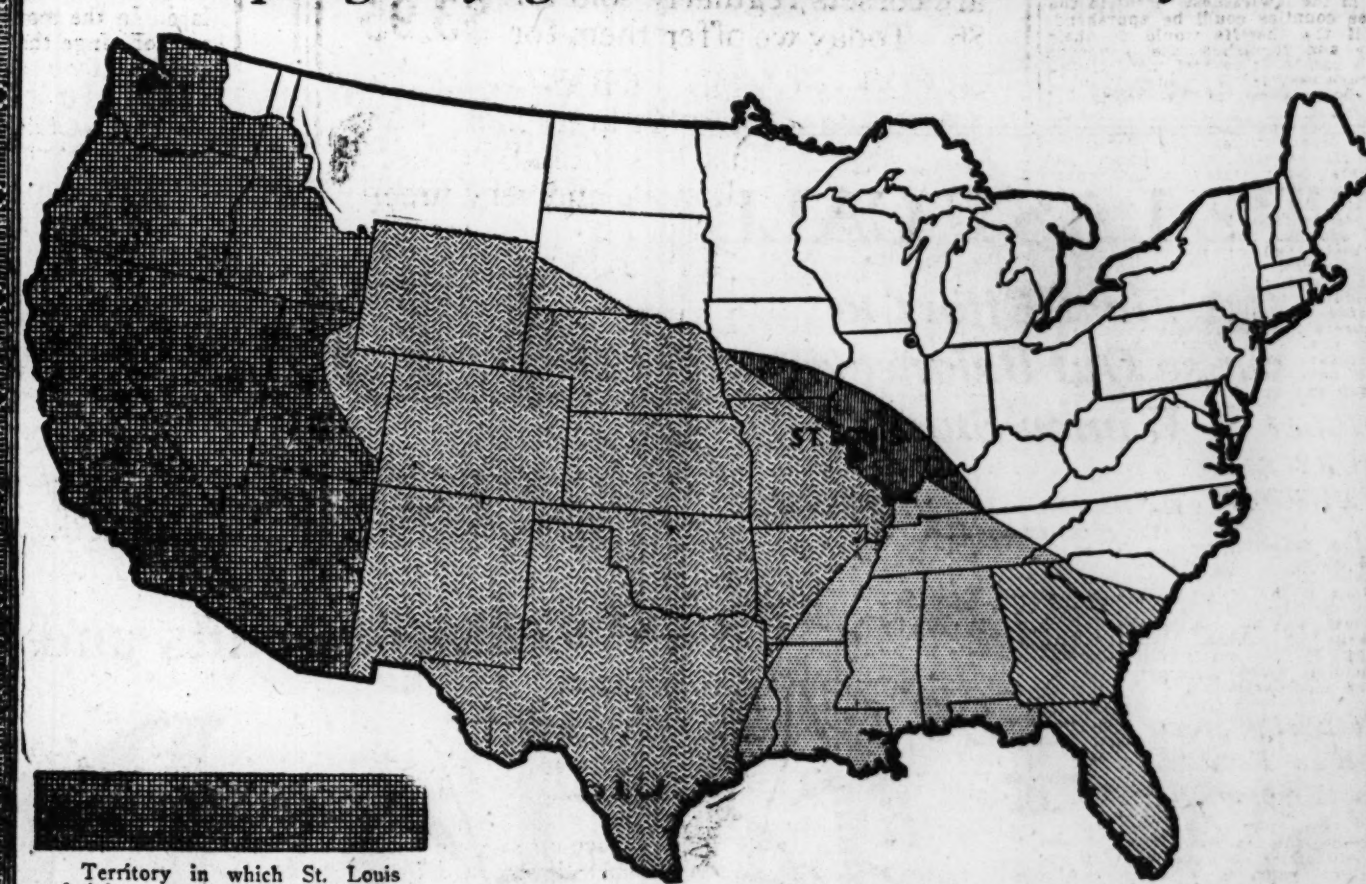

If you decide to build you will find us prepared to serve you with unsurpassed equipment.

Merchants—Save on Freight

Spring Buying in St. Louis Saves Money

St. Louis—Your Best Market

ST. LOUIS is your nearest big market. Merchandise considered, it is your most attractive market. The terms are as liberal as in other markets. St. Louis' economic position on the map is to your advantage. The saving in freight charges adds considerably to your profit margins.

St. Louis wholesale houses led the country in breaking high prices last October, forcing other markets to make price reductions. St. Louis houses took their losses and disposed of current stocks. They now have complete new spring stocks at readjusted prices for immediate delivery. The prices in most lines of merchandise have reached the low point. The early buyers will get the best selections.

Package Car Service.

The St. Louis Chamber of Commerce has given special attention to building up a package-car system, which assures quick delivery for the spring season when you need rush shipments. More than 1,200 package cars leave St. Louis every night for points in the St. Louis trade zone, by which your mixed shipments will reach you on almost the same basis as express. This furnishes you an emergency method for replenishing stocks.

St. Louis is your best market for:

HARRY P. HERMANCE GIVEN BIG PROMOTION

Will Retain Atlanta Home,
But New York Will Be Headquarters.

Harry P. Hermance, who for several years has been the general southern representative of the F. W. Woolworth company with headquarters here, and who is one of Atlanta's most active and highly esteemed citizens, will soon sail for Europe, where he goes in the interest of his company.

He has been promoted to a newly created position which will give him the extension of the company's business throughout Europe and the development of the business in the experienced direction.

With this in view his successor as manager of the local office has already been named and E. H. Miller, who will succeed him, is expected to arrive here in the next few days.

Mr. Hermance will remain in Atlanta for several weeks arranging for transfer of the business and as soon as this is done he will leave for New York, sailing on the Rotterdam, February 19, for Rotterdam, going from there through Germany, Austria, Czechoslovakia, Switzerland and France, returning to England and reaching New York about the middle of May.

His family will remain in Atlanta in the meantime and he will retain his permanent residence in Atlanta, though his official headquarters will probably be in New York.

"No one could regret more than I," he said, "the severing of my ties with Atlanta, but I shall never forget the happy times of my life here and the many friends I have made."

We opened the office here in March, 1916, and my residence here during these five years has been a joy to me and to every member of my family. It is now our intention to maintain our permanent residence in Atlanta.

"It is probable that I will have to make frequent trips to Europe and to that end my official headquarters will, no doubt, be in New York. But unless something develops, not now in sight, we expect to keep our home here, and I will probably spend more time here than anywhere else outside of New York."

Immediately after his departure, Mr. and Mrs. Hermance entered heartily into the civic and social activities of the city. They have been foremost in every public movement and only a few months ago they gave to Oglethorpe university $50,000 for the erection of a great athletic stadium.

While there will be universal regret that he is leaving, the fact that Mrs. Hermance is to remain in Atlanta and that this is to be the home of the family will be a source of keen gratification to their many friends.

INTER-RACIAL TROUBLE REPORT MADE BY NASH

Says Leaders Can Be Arrested If Sheriffs Will Do Duty.

Adjutant General Van Holt Nash's report of his investigation of inter-racial trouble in Hall, Lumpkin and White counties was officially received by Governor Hugh M. Dorsey Tuesday morning.

General Nash declared that leaders in the lawlessness recent in the three counties could be apprehended if the sheriffs would do their duty and furnished the governor with names of several men alleged to have assumed the leadership of the negroes out of that section of the state.

The governor has no authority to send troops unless the respective sheriffs request such action, but General Nash stated in his report that a number of citizens had admitted that the trouble was just as bad as reported.

There has been trouble in the northern end of Hall county for about a year and it has spread over into White and Lumpkin counties, according to the report. Several big lumber companies employing negro laborers have been forced to employ guards to protect their white railroads running through that section have had trouble in keeping negro employees.

Tech High School
Has Established
Employment Agency

Under the department of labor and in connection with the work of vocational guidance of the city school system, the Tech High school is conducting an employment agency and placement department for boys under the age of twenty-one years.

The object is not only to serve the boys of Tech High school, but to help any and all boys in the city under the age of 21.

The work, which is under the direction of Mrs. M. W. Leonard, a most capable woman, has the direct personal supervision of Professor William A. Sutton, principal of Tech High, and an expert in boy's work.

The employment question is said to be very acute, and while employers may not be needing a great number of boys in case there is need of a competent boy or young man, Professor Sutton asks that the employer give a him or Mrs. Leonard at Tech High, or call Ivy 4877.

The earnest co-operation of all employers of Atlanta is requested.

Legion to Help Raise National Guard Battalion

Committee of Ex-Service Men
Is Already Actively at Work.

That Atlanta members of the American Legion have put their shoulders to the wheel and are giving active and effective assistance in the campaign to organize in this city a battalion of the national guard, was announced yesterday by Major C. P. Byrd, commander of the old guard of Atlanta, which recently launched the movement.

A committee of ex-service men belonging to the legion has rendered its services to Major Byrd and have gone actively to work. One of them assured Major Byrd that he could get at least twenty ex-service men within a week. Others believed they could get from five to ten each. Assistance from this source, coupled with the support the old guard is receiving from civic organizations generally, is going to put the campaign over, Major Byrd predicted.

Byrd Sends Letter.
Major Byrd has addressed to Rufus Barnett, commander of Atlanta Post No. 1 of the American Legion, a letter requesting the assistance of the members, and has received a interesting reply which covers points particularly vital to legion men.

Major Byrd's letter and Mr. Barnett's reply are as follows:
Mr. Rufus Barnett, Commander Atlanta Post No. 1, the American Legion, Atlanta, Ga.
Dear Sir: Realizing the urgent need of a national guard, I am acting on a suggestion of the members of the American Legion in enlisting in the recent world war, and feeling sure that it only requires a realization of the present situation in Atlanta to have many of them re-enlist in the national guard, I am acting on a suggestion from Adjutant General Van Holt Nash in asking your co-operation in this movement. Anything you can do to advance the cause by way of suggestion or otherwise will be highly appreciated not only by the old guard, but by the citizens of Atlanta as well. Of course, the purpose to have this battalion officered by veterans of the world war.

Treating that you may consistently grant this request, and hoping to have your favorable response.

CHARLES P. BYRD,
Commandant Old Guard.
Atlanta, Ga., January 21, 1921.

Barnett's Letter.
Mr. Charles P. Byrd, Commandant the Old Guard, Atlanta, Ga.
Dear Mr. Byrd: This is to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 21st instant, asking for the co-operation of the American Legion in raising a battalion of the national guard in Atlanta. Atlanta post No. 1 is glad to co-operate in this splendid movement because it is in keeping with the spirit and letter of resolutions passed by the second national convention of the legion. Permit me to call your attention to the excerpts from the reports of the committee on military affairs which was unanimously adopted by the said convention. You will notice that the legion appreciates the necessity for military training and at the same time appreciates the dangers of militarism.

I am particularly glad to note that you say it is your purpose to have the proposed battalion officered by veterans of the world war. Some rumors that have come to my ear indicate that other than ex-service men might be considered as officers.

Each copy of your letter to me and a copy of this letter is being sent to the membership of Atlanta post No. 1, so that they may know that the legion will approve of their enlisting in the battalion, and that the employers among the membership may be advised that they can co-operate not only by becoming members of the battalion themselves, but by encouraging their employees to become members.

They also express the hope that this movement will be eminently successful, and that Atlanta will soon have a national guard organization of which it may be justly proud. Yours very truly,
RUFUS BARNETT,
Commander Post No. 1, American Legion, Atlanta, Ga., January 22, 1921.

HOSPITAL CORNERSTONE TO BE LAID THURSDAY

Chairman Asa Candler Asks
For Appropriate Documents.

Wesley Memorial hospital's cornerstone will be laid at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon and a final call for documents, relics, or souvenirs, which would be appropriate to deposit in the cornerstone box, is issued by Asa G. Candler, chairman of the building committee of the board of trustees.

The building committee has such articles as the date of founding, list of trustees and contributors, and Atlanta papers of current date, but they feel confident that citizens of the state must have papers or relics which would prove of peculiar interest and issue this request for that reason. The size of the box is limited and its contents must, therefore, be carefully selected. Any articles destined for the box must be delivered to Chairman Candler not later than noon today.

The laying of the cornerstones of the new and greater hospital will be an event of interest to Methodists throughout the south. The exercises will be held at 3 o'clock on Thursday afternoon on the site of the new hospital on the campus of Emory university in Druid Hills. Bishop Warren A. Candler, chancellor of the university will preside. Bishop Collins Denny, of Richmond, will deliver the principal oration. Rev. Charles L. Bass, grand master of the grand lodge of Georgia Masons, will have charge of the Masonic ceremonies.

VISITING IN ATLANTA
Major James L. Fort, assistant attorney general of the United States, is spending a few days in Atlanta en route to Danville, Ga., where he will visit ex-Congressman Dudley M. Hughes. He is a Georgian, having lived originally in Americus. For many years he served as secretary to Congressman Hughes in Washington.

Wesley Memorial hospital's cornerstone will be laid at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon and a final call for documents, relics, or souvenirs, which would be appropriate to deposit in the cornerstone box, is issued by Asa G. Candler, chairman of the building committee of the board of trustees.

The building committee has such articles as the date of founding, list of trustees and contributors, and Atlanta papers of current date, but they feel confident that citizens of the state must have papers or relics which would prove of peculiar interest and issue this request for that reason. The size of the box is limited and its contents must, therefore, be carefully selected. Any articles destined for the box must be delivered to Chairman Candler not later than noon today.

The laying of the cornerstones of the new and greater hospital will be an event of interest to Methodists throughout the south. The exercises will be held at 3 o'clock on Thursday afternoon on the site of the new hospital on the campus of Emory university in Druid Hills. Bishop Warren A. Candler, chancellor of the university will preside. Bishop Collins Denny, of Richmond, will deliver the principal oration. Rev. Charles L. Bass, grand master of the grand lodge of Georgia Masons, will have charge of the Masonic ceremonies.

"Hip-Pocket Tiger" Supply Base Raided Claim Prohi Agents

What federal prohibition officials believe to have been a supply base for "hip-pocket" peddlers was discovered at 4:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon when a party of federal prohibition agents and city detectives raided a residence at 840 Piedmont avenue, said to be the home of J. L. Woods. Fifty-seven gallons of corn whisky were found in the house and removed to the federal building, where it was stored in a vault.

The raiders were Agents J. W. Nations and Walter Emory, and City Detectives W. L. Payne and F. V. West. According to the officers, they apprehended a notorious bootlegger on Piedmont avenue late Tuesday afternoon who had three gallons of whisky in his possession. Upon being told that the whisky had been bought at the Piedmont avenue address, the officers proceeded to the house and instituted a search.

Six five-gallon kegs were found in a rear upstairs room, a one-gallon can was found in the pantry and the remainder, contained in one-gallon cans, was found in a wall cabinet. Late Tuesday the officers were searching for Woods, who is said to have disappeared following the raid. Members of his household were at home at the time.

Using a superheating tube to deliver dry alcohol gas mixed with air to the burner a torch has been invented that will fuse light copper wire without blowing.

THE CONSTITUTION'S FINANCIAL AND REVIEW

Danger Point in Country's Depression Period Passed

BY R. L. BARNUM

New York, January 25.—There was an irregular price movement at the opening of the stock market this morning, and uncertainty continued, with the volume of business handled very light. Prices made their low level on December 21, with the average for twenty industrials at 66.75. Then there was a recovery to 76.21 on January 11, followed by a decline to 74.43 and a recovery to 76.76. Now the average is off 2 points from the high, with the movement for the past two weeks between 76.76 and 74.43. Jesse Livermore, the most active trader in Wall street, has been selling Mexican Petroleum and United States Steel common short for the past week on the belief that the next price movement for the oil and steel shares at least will be downward.

He believes that prices for raw and finished oil and steel products are still far out of line with other commodities, and that hence the stock market has not discounted selling prices, which is ahead of these companies.

Danger Point Passed.

These views seem to fit in with what George E. Roberts, vice president of the National City bank, had to say today in discussing the general business and financial outlook. Roberts, who is recognized as one of the ablest economists and financiers in the country, went on record with the prediction that the danger point in the country's industrial depression had been passed, and that conditions may be expected to improve from now on. Before January 1, he said, business men were alarmed, because they did not know how much worse conditions were going to get, whereas today stocks have been reduced, there is a general resumption of buying, with the general situation showing notable improvement.

But he said it would be a mistake to believe that all of the shut-down factories were to start up at once. "I hardly look for a full rate of employment and general prosperity," he said, "until the industrial situation has generally improved. Some products have experienced a great fall in value; others have been only slightly reduced; many retail prices have not come down to conform with wholesale prices."

Farmers Await Reductions.

He then went on to point out that the farming class that makes up 46 per cent of our population have taken a great loss in their goods and owe a great deal of money, and that this class would not start buying again until prices for what it buys comes down to the present level of wheat, corn, cotton. He then added: "The speed with which the present depression is entirely effaced will be in just the ratio that every one realizes the necessity of getting prices down to a common level. As regards labor, it contends that it will not accept a reduction in wages until the cost of living comes down. That is clinging to a fallacy. It is the communities in which labor cost is large that are holding up the return to normal."

The verdict of the stock ticker on Governor Miller's message on local cotton situation was that in proposing a commission with police power to raise the rate above 5 cents, he is either proposing a program that cannot be carried out or else we are headed for municipal ownership.

Those in Wall street who would like to see the fares raised agree that the only way it can be done is through a receivership that would break the contract with the city, and no one familiar with the situation for a minute believes that the bankers behind the traction monopoly are willing to take the chances of losing control through a receivership. The balance sheet just published by Sears-Roebuck as of December 31, 1920, does not show that there has been any writing down of inventories. On June 30, 1920, when the notes were sold that item was given as $98,000,000. On December 31 last it stood at $105,000,000, against $42,000,000 for 1919 and $36,000,000 for 1917. Liabilities show, besides the new $50,000,000 3-year notes, $55,000,000 of accounts, notes and bills payable. Vice president Loeb stated today that during the coming six months the company expects to reduce inventories by from $30,000,000 to $40,000,000. Accounts receivable stood at $45,000,000, against $19,000,000 for 1919 and $10,000,000 for 1917. The profit and loss surplus was down to $7,500,000, against $35,000,000 a year ago. A block of $10,000,000 of the new $100,000,000 3-year bonds brought yesterday at par sold today at 99 1/2.

Net earnings of the United States Steel corporation for the December quarter, given out after the close of business today, amounting to $43,877,000, were slightly under Wall street's highest estimate of $45,000,000. The year estimate was $440,000,000. The figures compare with $48,651,000 for the September quarter and $45,000,000 for the December, 1919, quarter. By months, October net, amounting to $11,775,000, showed a gain of $5,665,000 over 1919; November, amounting to $15,002,000, was larger by $234,000; December, amounting to $12,099,000, showed a decrease of $813,000.

Argentine Negotiations.

Demand sterling opened this morning at $3.80 1/4, the highest level reached since July 22 last. In view of the official announcement just made that France would float no loan in this market at this time, many supposed that the sensational recovery in foreign exchange would be checked. On all sides it is realized that the recovery in exchange has been a temporary one, and that a number of foreign countries would float loans here and use such loans to make needed purchases of raw and finished materials and foodstuffs, thereby relieving the selling pressure of their bills here. Today's continued advance in exchange despite the news that France has withdrawn from its loan negotiations, is understood to mean that that country, while temporarily objecting to the high interest rate just paid by Belgium, will in the end make its loan here on the terms fixed by our bankers. Argentine, which was generally supposed to have almost concluded negotiations here for a loan, also withdrew on account of the high carrying charge, including interest and commissions. But it is believed that both Argentine and France will return and pay the terms demanded. They need the supplies being purchased here, and there is nowhere else to go. They must either buy here on long term credits, just as Belgium has done, send gold, which they cannot do, or else see their exchange go against them, which adds just so much more to every dollar's worth of goods purchased here.

There was a freight car surplus on January 15, of 286,562 cars, according to today's figures, against 285,978 on January 8. These figures seem to bear out the prediction of railway officials for December, the first to be issued for the month, showed a gross of $2,035,000, against $1,549,000 for the same period of 1919, with net operating income at $402,000, against $342,000. For the year gross amounting to $22,355,000 was larger by $5,748,000, with net at $3,485,000, an increase of $1,054,000.

President Hoover, of Atchison, says the growing freight car surplus is due to better use of cars, as well as to a falling off in tonnage, and that the falling off in tonnage may disappear as quickly as it appeared.

HEAVY LOSS SHOWN IN SOUTH'S COTTON

By JAMES A. HOLLOMAN.
Washington, January 25.—(Special.)—The loss to the cotton farmers of the south in 1920, caused by price deflation was nearly as great as to corn growers in the entire United States and nearly a half billion dollars greater than the loss to the wheat growers in the entire United States.

The value of farm crops of 1920 and of the farm animal products and animals sold and slaughtered, as finally determined by the bureau of crop estimates, United States department of agriculture, is $13,356,000,000, or $5,105,000,000 more than the total of 1919.

The crop is almost entirely confined to crops, among which the chief declines in value are: Corn, $1,563,000,000; cotton, $1,487,000,000; when $354,000,000; hay, tame and wild, $22,000,000; tobacco, $24,000,000, and oats, $11,000,000.

On the other hand, as many as ten crops gained in value, chief of which are oranges, with a gain of $22,000,000, and sugar beets, $2,000,000. Other items of gain are cabbage, $11,000,000; cow peas, $10,000,000; sorghum cane and sirup made, $10,000,000. Small gains were made by soy beans, sugar beet seed, maple sugar and sirup and onions. Apparently the products of the farm wood lot have gained $22,000,000 in value in the comparison with 1919.

After offsetting gains against losses, the net crop value reduction in 1920 below 1919 is $4,838,000,000, while only $237,000,000 is found in the total of farm animal products and farm animals sold and slaughtered. Of the animals sold and slaughtered, the decline for cattle and calves is $22,000,000 and for

Woman Can't Find Words to Express Herself
After six years of suffering from stomach trouble I am feeling fine. The floating and burning in my stomach, my stomach and bowels, are all like new. I can't think of any words suitable enough to praise May's Wonderful Remedy. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrh from the intestinal tract and allows the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince money refunded. Jacob's Pharmacy and druggists everywhere.
